Delivering only the best images to our customers is our main goal. Because of this, we carefully select and edit the images from your session that meet our highest standards. Therefore, it is company policy that we will not release any unedited images under any circumstances. If you have any specific preferences regarding editing please let your photographer know during your session.

The number of images provided in your session is based on a number of factors; location, event type, lighting conditions, number of subjects, cooperation of subjects, available subject matter, etc. For customers wishing for a higher image quantity, we recommend booking extra session time. However, the above guidelines still apply.

For large event pricing, please contact us for quote.
